

Amit Tandon, M.D.
Board-Certified Ophthalmologist

“Satisfaction, to me,
comes by giving
people back the ability to see how the world really should look.”
- Dr. Amit Tandon

Amit Tandon, M.D.

Ophthalmology
Cataract Surgery

Dr. Amit Tandon is a native of Marion, Ohio, and graduated from The Ohio State University Honors Program in 1999. He earned his medical degree at the University of Cincinnati College of Medicine in 2003. Dr. Tandon was selected as Chief Resident while completing his Ophthalmology residency at the Kellogg Eye Center at the University of Michigan. Dr. Tandon then relocated back to Columbus where he now serves as Clinical Assistant Professor of Ophthalmology at The Ohio State University Medical Center. In 2009, Dr. Tandon received a surgical award from The OSU Department of Ophthalmology. Dr. Tandon has significant experience with premium intraocular lenses including those that correct astigmatism and presbyopia. In addition to seeing patients, Dr. Tandon spends his time at OSU teaching residents advanced techniques in eye surgery as well as performing cataract surgeries at Bucyrus and Galion Community Hospitals.

330 N. Seltzer Street
Crestline, OH 44827
419-462-4537
Fax 419-462-4557